EVENT OVERVIEW

The possibilities are endless when it comes to looking at a Company Fun Day! A great chance to make guests feel valued and work as a subliminal teambuilding event with employees and clients joining together in lighthearted activities, developing relationships, making memories, and having a brilliant time.

Your party can be as big or as small as you need and for as many or as few guests as you wish to invite. Activities are an essential element and can be individual and team based, suitable for both children and adults and can include shows, performances or inter-team competitions in a central arena.

Your day will create an ideal opportunity to thank staff and their families for their work and support and to provide an informal and relaxed format for internal competition. Your day will be a perfect morale booster for staff and above all, it can provide an all-too-rare chance for a whole company to come together.

ACTIVITIES AND THEMES

Activities are an essential element of Company Fun Days and can be individual and team based.....we like you to get creative!

They can be suitable for both children and adults and include central arena shows such as dog agility or circus spectacular and performances like drumming troupes or knife throwing.

Get everyone's competitive nature heightened by including inter-team competitions for example school sports, tug o'war or an inflatable obstacle course. These are a great fun for the competitors and the spectators!

As with the above parties, adding a theme to the day adds another level of excitement and atmosphere. Over the years our clients have been very creative with themes such as Beside the Seaside, Back to School, Harry Potter and even Superhero's!
